2. WORKSHOP: BHARATER SWADHINATA SANGRAME SAHITYER ABADAN:14.08.2016:

Dr. Gopal Mishra, Vice Chancellor, University of Gour Banga, Malda, pointed out how Art and literature was used to spread the message of patriotism and expose atrocities of British. In Anandamath, set during the famine in Bengal, Chattopadhyay highlighted various patriotic acts of and sacrifices made by his characters, ordinary people who left their homes and families to fight against subjection, and in service of the Mother. National song, Bande Mataram, was first published as a poem in this novel as the rallying cry of the characters who used it to give themselves courage and to urge people to fight against the British.

Prof. Sakti Pada Patra, President, Governing Body, Gour Mahavidyalaya, Ex-Principal, Malda Govt. Teachers Training College, discussed how Literature played an important role and was used as a tool of propaganda. Newspapers like Bande Mataram, Jungantar Patrika, and Harijansought to make Indian citizens not only socially and politically aware but also unite them for one common cause. Pamphlets written and distributed across India provided critical information and served as propaganda against the British.

Dr. Apurba Chakraborty, IC, University of Gour Banga, discussed how the Swadeshi movement started mobilizing beyond the literate section. Dr.Chakraborty argued that Rabindranath Tagore was one of the main ideologues of the constructive Swadeshi movement
