Concept Note

Arabic language is one of the most spoken languages in the world today. Apart from the 22 countries of the Arab world, many countries of the world use Arabic as their official language. In terms of user population, many consider the position of this language second. Arabic is second only to English speakers. Arabic is used as the language of the Qur'an, Hadith and the writings of Muslim thinkers and scientists. Even after thousands of years, the Arabic language is shining in its glory until today. The influence of Arabic language is visible in the languages, civilizations and history-traditions of different parts of the world because of the Islamic regime.

The Arabic language is a pillar of the cultural diversity of humanity. It is one of the most widely spoken languages in the world, used daily by more than 400 million people. World Arabic Language Day is celebrated every year on 18 December since 2012. In 2012, UNESCO designated December 18 as Arabic Language Day for the first time. Almost four decades ago, on this day in 1973, Arabic became the official language of the United Nations as the sixth language. In 2013, UNESCO's Advisory Council decided to celebrate this day globally to highlight Arabic culture.

Objective

This programme was organised to raise awareness among students about the World Arabic Language Day recognised and declared by the United Nations.
