

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

Statement of Course outcome and Program outcome

MINOR

POLSCSCM 101 Political Theory	1	CO1: A clear understanding of the meaning of Politics CO2: To analyze and explain the basic political theories and concepts.
POLSCDSCM 201 Political Sociology	2	CO1: To learn about the basic issues of political sociology and will also gather different perspectives on the interrelationship between society and politics.
POLSCDSCM 301 Modern Indian Political Thought	3	CO1: To gather knowledge on the works and thoughts of some of the important thinkers in modern India.
POLSCDSCM 401 Western Political Thought	4	CO1: To trace the evolution of Western political thought and will be introduced to the great political thinkers who paved the way for most important theories of political science
POLSCDSCM- 501 Indian Polity	5	CO2: To learn about the formulation, implementation and evaluation of the public policy in India and also its recent developments
POLSCDSCM-601 Understanding Public Administration	6	CO1: To analyze the different approaches to public administration. CO2: To interpret the various dimensions of governance, and understand the relationship between policy decisions and its effects on society
POLSCDSCM-701 Indian Foreign Policy	7	CO1: To learn about how India and her foreign policy has evolved from a post-colonial state to an aspiring global power
POLSCDSCM-801 Selected Constitution: UK, USA, PRC, Switzerland	8	CO1: To learn the importance of comparing institutions of various nations for better understanding of world politics.

MDC

MDC-101 Human Rights , Law and Political Institution	1	CO1: Understanding of Human Rights Principles; Awareness of International and Domestic Legal Frameworks; CO2: Students will evaluate the role of political institutions in promoting or violating human rights.
MDC201 Media, Politics and Public Opinion	2	CO1: Analyze the Role of Media in Politics: CO2: Assess the Impact of Media on Public Opinion: CO3: Evaluate the Influence of Social Media on Politics:
MDC301 E-Governance in India	3	CO1: Understand the Structure and Functions of Indian CO2: Governance: Analyze the Political Institutions and Processes: CO3: Evaluate the Role of Bureaucracy and Public Administration: CO4: Develop Critical Thinking on Contemporary Issues:

PSO 1: Building a consciousness regarding the national and international politics and critically evaluating the social, economic and political variables that determine the Indian society in particular and the global society at large.

PSO 2: Analyzing the Indian constitution, major legislations, reforms and understanding the legal system, the administrative structure and processes.

PSO 3: Developing a sound knowledge of India's foreign relations with her neighbors and other nations.

PSO 4: Encouraging a comprehensive and comparative understanding of the world constitutions and global politics.

PSO 5: Understanding the various political theories and thoughts of the Indian and Western philosophers that have shaped the current global scenario.

PSO 6: Acquiring skills to use the various methods and tools of investigation in social research.