

Programme Specific Outcomes (PSO)
Sociology (Major)
NEP

Having completed graduation in sociology, the students are expected to acquire the following qualities:

- PSO1: The students will have the fundamental knowledge of sociological concepts and theories.
- PSO2: They will develop skills in research methodologies and its practical applications.
- PSO3: The students will develop “sociological imagination” that will help in resolving day to day issues with greater competency.
- PSO4: They will have an in-depth understanding of the philosophies of different thinkers and also know how each one’s ideas are contextually relevant.
- PSO5: A degree in this subject will help the individual work in various sectors of the economy.
- PSO6: The students will develop better understanding of behavioural traits of individuals and groups that will help him or her to work better.
- PSO7: A sociological spirit helps in building national integrity as diversities are accommodated in attitudes and opinions.

Programme Outcomes (PO)
Sociology (Major)

By choosing this programme, the learner should be able to:

- a. get a holistic understanding of society;
- b. identify similarities and differences between societies and cultures;
- c. describe the past and look at possible future scenarios
- d. explain complex phenomena through its underlying structure.

The aim is making the students self -reliant with necessary proficiency for a wide variety of career with entrepreneurial skills and placement.

The discipline also empowers the students to appear for various competitive examination or research problem of their choice.

It enables the students to acquire the knowledge with human values forming the base to deal with various problems in life with courage and humanity.

The students will acquire in depth knowledge in the field of social, Literature and humanities.

Practical training/ exposure through field visit, Research project , expert lectures, demonstration, workshop and seminar gives hand-on experience to student

Job Opportunities: Students will have the opportunity to join professional career in Sociology and allied fields. Sociology provides an intellectual background for students considering career, social services, public policy, government service, non-governmental organizations, or academia. This programme lays foundation for further study in Sociology, Social work, Rural Development, Social Welfare and in other allied subjects

Course Outcomes (CO)
Subject: Sociology (Major)

SEMESTER	COURSE	COURSE NAME (TOPIC)	COURSE OUTCOME (CO)
SEM 1	MC-1	INTRODUCTION TO SOCIOLOGY	This module will invite the students to the world of sociological reasoning, understanding of concepts, and fundamental theorization. This will enable the learners to delineate areas of similarities and dissimilarities between sociology and other social sciences and will equip the students with ideas on social institutions, social processes, social control, deviance and conformity, and social change.

2 MC-2	FOUNDATIONS OF SOCIAL THOUGHTS (WESTERN)	Western : This module will help the students trace the journey of sociology from the time of its inception and the contribution of Auguste Comte in establishing it as the youngest discipline of social science. This module will enable the learners to understand the great works of Karl Marx, Max Weber, Pareto, Durkheim etc and form ideas on their work and contribution to sociology. Indian : This module will help the students to know the contribution of various Indologists like Benoy Kumar Sarkar, A.R. Desai, D.N. Majumder, M.N. Srinivas etc and their ideas on caste and race; and cities and civilization. will enable the learners to understand personality society and values . explore the dichotomy between tradition and modernity.

	SEC-1	SOCIAL WELFARE, LEGISLATION AND JUSTICE	This module will enable the students to understand society in the arena of social policies in India and its relevance in contemporary India. This will help the learner understand the social legislation, constitution of India and role of social worker in promotion of social justice.

--	--	--	---

SEM 2	MC-3	SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY	This module will help explore the various perspectives needed to understand the discipline of sociology. This module will also help the students understand the general arguments, contributions of Parsons & Merton , and a critical overview of functionalism. This module will also help the students understand the general arguments, and contributions of Max Weber to interpretative sociology. Further , this module will help the students to learn about the basic features , general arguments on conflict theory, exchange theory, symbolic interactionism, phenomenology and ethnomethodology.
	MC-4	SOCIETY IN INDIA	This module will help the learners understand the fundamental ideas of nationalist, colonial,

SEC 2	SURVEY METHOD IN SOCIAL RESEARCH	This module will help students understand the process of research, different research designs used, sampling techniques employed and an overview of the field. The students will learn the importance of statistics in social research. This module will help the learners identify the levels of measurement in social science research.
-------	----------------------------------	---

			and subaltern discourses of nationalism. This module will also enable the students explore the basic elements that make up the Indian society and how each element contributes to the making of 'India as a Nation'.
--	--	--	--

	MC-5	PROTESTS, RESISTANCE AND MOVEMENTS	This module will help the students understand the fundamental ideologies of resistance movements, their trajectories, and how effectively they
--	------	------------------------------------	--

			development of society
SEM 5	MC-8	Foundation of Sociological Thought(Indian)	Indian : This module will help the students to know the contribution of various Indologists like Benoy Kumar Sarkar, A.R. Desai, D.N. Majumder, M.N. Srinivas etc and their ideas on caste and race; and cities and civilization. Will enable the learners to understand personality society and values . explore the dichotomy between tradition and modernity.

	MC-9	INDUSTRIAL SOCIOLOGY	This module will introduce the students to the genesis of sociology work and industry associated therein. This module will further help in exploring the variety of perspectives in sociology of work and industry like industrialism, information society and post industrial society. This module will aid in understanding the interrelationships between alienation and work, gender and work, unpaid work and forced labour. This module will explore the problems of informal work and women's participation in informal work. Further this module will explore the problems ,risks and hazards of industries and vulnerability-exposure.
	MC-10	POPULATION AND SOCIETY	This module will help the students understand the basic ideas with reference to population studies. This module will enable the learners to get the knowledge of population serving as a conditioning factor in determining social structures.

--	--	--	--

MC-11	SOCIOLOGY OF TRIBAL SOCIETY	The main objectives of tribal studies are to formulate and undertake projects and programmes on tribal studies and research for promotion of tribal art, culture, tradition and heritage and their preservation and promotion; to undertake projects for improving agricultural and horticultural productivity of tribal people. Tribal Studies has been considered as an important part of social and cultural anthropology and contributed immensely to the growth of knowledge in academics. In fact the origin and growth of the discipline of anthropology has its main root in tribal
-------	-----------------------------	---

SEM 6
	MC-12	SOCIOLOGY OF ENVIRONMENT	This module will help explore the various perspectives needed to understand the development of environmental sociology. This will help the students understand several approaches to conceptualize the relationship between individuals, society and environment. This module will further help the students understand the various environmental movements in India and their impact on society at large.
	MC-13	SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY	Science, Technology &

		AND SOCIETY	Society is an interdisciplinary field of study that seeks to explore and understand the many ways that modern science and technology shape modern culture, values, and institutions, and how modern values shape science and technology.
	MC-14	SOCIAL RESEARCH METHODS	This module will help in a clearer understanding of social research, objectives and typology, relationships

			between theory and research, concept of hypothesis and the idea of objectivity and reflexivity. This module will aid in better understanding of the different methodological perspectives needed for social research. This module will help the students dive into the world of sociological techniques employed for carrying out research activity.
	MC-15	RETHINKING DEVELOPMENT	The course "Rethinking Development" aims to sociologically examine the complexities of the process of development as it unfolded in the societies of the developing world. It explores specific issues of development such as modernisation, poverty, inequality, underdevelopment; as well contemporary concerns such as capability, decentralization, displacement, gender, participation and sustainable development. The course reviews the major debates on development from two important theoretical

			perspectives, i.e. modernization theory and dependency theory. It also highlights the post-development as well as the world system perspectives of development.
--	--	--	--

			studies.
	MC-16	GENDER AND SOCIETY	This module will help the students understand the basic concepts related to sociology of gender. This module will enable the learners to explore the socio cultural construction of gender. This will help the students learn about the ideas behind gender differences, discrimination, segregation and other forms of exclusions and will help the students learn the fundamentals of gender discrimination and the consequences on society.

	MC-17	SOCIOLOGY OF HEALTH AND MEDICINE	Medical sociologists are interested in how social transitions, whether political or economic, affect health care systems. They are interested
--	-------	----------------------------------	--

		in the course, causes, and consequences of such social transitions in the health care sector. Medical sociology is a specialization
--	--	--

			within sociology that focuses on issues of health, illness, and medicine in society. The broad scope of this specialization requires further specialization for each sociologist or study.
--	--	--	--

SEM 6	MC-18	STATISTICS FOR SOCIOLOGY	This module will help the students identify the various statistical methods like central tendency, dispersion, range, standard deviation. The students will learn the importance of statistics in social research. They will also understand grouping of data, cumulative frequency, and percentage
-------	-------	--------------------------	--

			distribution. This will also help the learners learn bar-diagram, pie-chart, frequency polygon, histogram and ogive.
--	--	--	--

MC-19	CRIME AND SOCIETY	In this module the students will have a clear understanding and can differentiate between 'crime' and 'society'. It is crucial to understand both the terms, 'crime' and 'society' when we discuss crime and society. Because it is hard to comprehend crime without researching society as a whole, there is a relationship between criminology and sociology. The concept of deviation in society is where the idea of crime originates. Further the goal of criminological theory is to help one gain an understating of crime and criminal justice . Theories cover the making and the breaking of the law, criminal and deviant behavior, as well as patterns of criminal activity.
SEM 8 (DSE)	FAMILY AND INTIMACY	This module will deal family intimacy refers to the emotional connection between family members. Family intimacy can rebalance the family decision- making power and support the autonomy of family members.

--	--	------------------------------------